

STAGE :: The Young Tycoons

By Sally Salmond

NSW | 12.09.2005

If you want a really good laugh, get yourself down to Darlinghurst Theatre before October 1st 2005. In fact, book a few tickets and take a small crowd, because you will not be disappointed.

Birthered from the amazing writing talent of Christopher Johnson (author of The Dog Logs, Backpacker! and Barnsey, The Harbour and You), The Young Tycoons will have you laughing from the very first scene. This clever Australian satire is a topical riotous comedy about money, greed, power, family, sex... and did I say money?

The Young Tycoons

Set in a variety of executive and wealthy locations, this comedy takes us on the journey of two privileged sons, Kim Vogler (Michael Cullen) and Trevor

Warburton (Jonathan Gavin) as they are given control of their fathers' empires. Their attempts to become the business tycoons their fathers have been, is highly entertaining! Feeling the constant pressure to prove themselves worthy of their positions, risks are taken, people are displaced, feathers are ruffled, relationships are strained and ultimately - their worth is judged.

Featuring some amazing acting talent such as David Ritchie, Nicholas Hammond, Zoe Tuckwell-Smith, Rebekah Moore, Ashlie Pellow and the multi-talented playwright himself, Christopher Johnson, this marvellous satire is bound to be a sell-out. However, it's two-time AFI winner, Peter Kowitz who really steals the show. Peter plays the outrageously ocker magnate Ted Vogler and delivers much of the laughs. The outstanding combination of script and actor make for a character that you just can't help but laugh at. Peter truly shines in this cast.

Superbly directed by Michael Pigott, The Young Tycoons is a completely enjoyable experience. Totally entertaining, clever and engaging. May Spooky Duck Productions continue to deliver this calibre of entertainment. Don't miss it!

The Young Tycoons is playing at the Darlinghurst Theatre Company, 19 Greenknowe Ave, Potts Point until Saturday 1st October 2005.
